VACCINATION OF SMALL CHILD AGAINST SMALLPOX ADVISED

The Vaccinating Of A Baby A Few Days Old Has Little Harmful Effect, Whereas It Does Effect People In Mature Years — Public Are Indifferent.

(By DR. J. M. MATHER, M.O.H., West Lincoln Health Unit)

A recent issue of the Canadian Public Health Journal has again emphasized the importance of smallpox vaccination. It is a natural human reaction to fear those things we see and to disregard and minimize rare and unfamiliar occurrences. Thus, when smallpox was a common disease no one hesitated to be vaccinated of the need for vaccination. Now, with smallpox almost an unknown disease in Canada many people fail to see the need for vaccination.

This is a most dangerous misconception. Smallpox is still an epidemic disease in many parts of the world and vaccination is the only protection.

Recent outbreaks in the United States confirm this. In recruits for the R.C.A.F. during the recent war it was found that 35% had never been vaccinated. This is a good idea (Continued on page 9)

PEACH CROP ESTIMATE AT ONLY 50 PER CENT.

Apples, Strawberries And Raspberries Only Crops That Will Exceed 1946 Production—Plums And Pears Down.

Apples, raspberries and strawberries are the only three fruits which will exceed the 1946 crop, according to a June production estimate just released by the Ontario Agricultural Department. The grape harvest is expected to be the equal of last year's, but other fruits—plums, pears, peaches and cherries, both sweet and sour—will drop in production.

The estimated apple crop is placed at 970,000 barrels, an increase of 45 per cent over last year. Strawberries will yield nearly 10 million quarts, and raspberries 3,500,000 quarts, respective increases of 22 and 18 per cent. Grape production is placed at 32,575 tons.

See this happy-go-lucky fellow at the Carnival TONIGHT, Friday and Saturday nights. He is the kids' friend, Lion Cecil "Admiral" Bell. Besides this funny fellow there will be games and refreshment booths of all kinds, the beloved old Merry-Go-Round and the big Ferris Wheel. Each night at 11 o'clock the big drawing will take place and there will be plenty of prizes for mom, dad and the kids.

FORSEES THE FRUIT BELT BEING WASHED ENTIRELY AWAY

M.P. Expresses Fear Two New Piers At Bronte, Oakville Will Be Low — Also See High Water Covering All Toronto Island.

Ottawa, June 28—Property damage caused by unusually high lake levels this year can be collected from the federal government, J. R. MacNicol (Prog. Cons., Toronto-Davenport) told the Commons yesterday during discussion of the department of works estimates.

Lake Ontario is at record height and will continue to rise, he declared. "There is no way of stopping it unless some action is taken to prevent water from being poured into the St. Lawrence watershed; water which has no business there."

Referring particularly to flood damage at the Toronto Islands Mr. MacNicol said: "I am going to write to the mayor of Toronto, suggesting that he take action for damages against this country. One-half of the islands today are under water, and a further rise of two inches in the lake level will cover them."

GRAPE GROWERS WILL FORM CO-OPERATIVE

New Company Will Build A $500,000 Plant In St. Catharines With 2,500 Ton Processing Capacity.

Nearly 100 prominent grape growers, members of the United Grape Growers Association, a peninsula-wide organization, voted unanimously last night at a meeting at Victoria Hall, Vineland, to form the Ontario Grape Growers' Co-operative, Ltd.

The newly-formed Grape Growers' Co-operative will proceed with the construction of a $500,000, 2,500-ton plant for processing grapes and other fruits, the plant to be situated on Berryman avenue in St. Catharines and to be managed and operated by the international grape processing firm of Welch Grape Juice Co. Ltd.

The Welch Grape Juice firm formerly operated a plant in St. Catharines, and since closing of this plant, the company's Canadian sales office has been maintained in (Continued on page 9)

When "Red" Graham or "Sandy" Globe have any big agricultural or floricultural project in hand they just tell The Independent about it and leave the matter in the unimaginative mind of the Editor.

Such is not the case with Bert Lonsbury, Park Road, Grimsby Beach. When Bert has any extraordinary cultural development on hand he brings the real product right into the Editor's Den of Inquiry.

Last Friday morning he brought into the Sanctum Sanctorum a Delphinium that measured six feet eight and a half inches.

AMENDMENTS TO TRAFFIC ACT ARE NOW IN FORCE

Automobile Owners Who Can Not Satisfy Damage Claims Will Not Be Permitted To Operate Vehicles.

The Hon. George H. Doucet, Ontario Minister of Highways, today issued a warning that the amendments to the Highway Traffic Act become effective on and after July 1st, 1947. He pointed out that these amendments are important to all drivers and vehicle owners; they are designed to encourage safe driving and to assure the collection of damages awarded by the courts for personal injuries suffered, or property damaged.

"Careful and prudent driving is encouraged by the new laws; reckless or incompetent driving is more heavily penalized," Mr. Doucet explained. "For example, the driver who is convicted of any offence arising out of an accident will not only pay the penalty imposed by the magistrate but the driver's license and the owner's permit will be suspended until proof is given that he is able to satisfy judgment for an amount of $11,000 for damages which might arise out of future accidents."

Mr. Doucet added that under the (Continued on page 9)

Highway Department Road Men Claim That Red Lanterns And Red Flags Mean Nothing To Some Drivers.

Intense heat caused at least two pavement blow-ups on district highways—one on the Queen Elizabeth Way two miles west of Grimsby, and the other on No. 58 highway near Port Colborne.

"The heat on top of the pavement when the bottom is wet causes a heat expansion which results in blow-ups," a Highways Department official said to-day, pointing out that continued heavy rains followed by intense heat are "ideal" conditions for pavement blow-ups.

In the break on the Queen Elizabeth, which occurred late Saturday afternoon, a strip of cement pavement 12 feet wide and four feet long was affected, pieces of cement 1½ feet wide, by two feet in length and 10 inches thick were blown up. On No. 58 highway, the (Continued on page 10)

Peach Dairy Bar Now Open To The Public — Modernly Finished And Equipped — Building Is The Finest Structure Erected In Grimsby Since 1919.

The finest business block that has been erected in Grimsby since The Temple building was built in 1919 by Steve McCoy and the late James Wray, was partially opened to the public this week when Thompson and Son threw open the doors of the new Peach Dairy Bar.

This building is a credit to Main street, especially as it occupies the site that for so many years was the old frame building that housed the Hong Lee Chinese Laundry. At the present time only the front portion of the building housing the Dairy Bar, is open.

This building is 36 feet in width on Main street and has a depth of 70 feet, with a driveway on each side and at the rear. The front part of the structure is occupied by the Dairy Bar and the rear portion when all the machinery and equipment is installed will be the home of the Peach King Dairy, and where (Continued on page 9)

COUNTY COUNCIL COMPROMISE ON ASSESSMENT EQUALIZATION

AN INDIAN WAS THE ORIGINAL ATOMIC BOMB

According To A. W. Eickmeier This Native Son Picked 500 Quarts Of Strawberries A Day For Six Days.

Just for proof that everybody reads The Independent here is the strawberry story that tops all strawberry stories and we believe it because no less a personage than A. W. Eickmeier, the effervescent fruit shipper of Grimsby Beach called "Little Dyke" out of bed on Friday morning to give him the information. They are both Presbyterians.

According to "Eickey", about 28 years ago a man by the name of Jim Pengilly owned a strawberry patch at Clarkson. He had working for him an Indian, 40 years of age. Apparently that Indian was the forerunner of the Atomic Bomb, for as the story goes, he picked 500 quarts of strawberries a day for six straight days, and at a cent a quart. He started work at eight in the morning and finished not later than 5.30 every day.

The last thing that the Editor of this paper would do, would be to doubt "Eickey's" word, because "Eickey" knows strawberries. He also knows that it only takes (Continued on page 10)

Grantham And Clinton Townships Get A Reduction Of $50,000, After A Heated Debate Of Three Hours Duration—Court Hearing Would Have Cost Thousands Of Dollars.

At a special session called last night by Warden W. L. Patterson of Niagara-on-the-Lake, the Lincoln County Council finally arrived at a compromise measure in regard to equalized assessment for the year and one which it is hoped will meet with the approval of the various municipalities.

A heated controversy arose at the last general session of the council on June 17 when the assessment figures for 1947 were announced. The council adjourned with rumors rife that at least one municipality, Grantham Township, would appeal against the decision. The opinion was expressed that the Grantham officials felt they were being asked to carry more than their share of the load since their assessment had jumped some three hundred thousand dollars within the last few years.

The council met Thursday night as the assessment committee under the chairmanship of Deputy-Deeve Ivan D. Buchanan in a last-hour attempt to iron out the difficulties with regard to the equalized assessment. The debate tended to be (Continued on page 9)

COMPARE THIS PICTURE WITH THE OPPOSITE ONE

The picture on the opposite corner shows you some of the High School pupils of today. This picture is also of High School pupils. The lady who sent The Independent this photo remarked: "I do not know if we had those starched petticoats of 'Away Back When,' but we certainly had more on than we have today." In this picture are some boys who have gone far in this world and so have some of the girls. Can you tell us when this picture was taken? Who are the pupils? What building is in the background? It certainly is not the present High School.

Brown rot, Dr. Williams explained, was a fungus disease which in this district attacked chiefly the stone fruits, peaches, plums and cherries. Although injury was most apparent in fully developed fruit, immature fruit might also be affected, as well as the blossoms, leaves and twigs of the tree.

The disease was carried over winter, he explained, by the dry, shrivelled-up mummified fruit infected by the rot during the previous season, and left lying on the ground beneath the trees. Although in this dried up condition the mummy might look harmless, it was in reality a dense mass of mycelium of the brown rot fungus, and was (Continued on page 10)

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

WOMEN AND THE AUTOMOBILE

Men, as a rule, do not have a very high opinion of women automobile drivers. Quite often you hear a male driver complain: "Just as I thought, a woman driver!" We don't want to get into any controversy over this subject, but we should like to point out that here is one man who credits women drivers with most improvements in automobile riding comfort.

He is George Conrad Diehl, past president of the American Automobile Association, who states that analysis of the vehicle of today and those planned for tomorrow proves that automotive manufacturers have long recognized the female of the species as more forward-minded than the male when it comes to car building.

Mr. Diehl explains that as the automobile became more popular in the beginning of this century, and as more women learned to drive, manufacturers sought out mechanical improvements to give increased riding and driving comfort. The foot brake, the self-starter and improved steering gears were originally introduced to attract women drivers. Mr. Diehl declares. For the same reason, manufacturers developed the closed car.

So there you are, ladies! An expert gives you credit for helping develop the modern vehicle. And the next time your husband is critical of your handling of the car, just politely tell him what women did for automobile design.

THE WEEKLIES

Referring to the annual convention of Ontario-Quebec division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association held at Ottawa this month, the Globe and Mail, had this to say editorially:

"The Ontario-Quebec division, along with its contemporary organizations in other parts of Canada, will have need of young, vigorous men in their policy-making councils, for the problems of publishing weekly newspapers have not receded with the passing of time. Indeed, as the convention learned, the growing shortage of skilled help and newspaper may well offer Canadian weeklies one of the most difficult hurdles they have had to negotiate in some years. The convention's action, in urging assistance from the Department of Immigration and inauguration of more thorough training courses for veterans by the Department of Veterans' Affairs, suggests that the weekly publishers are alive to the danger and prepared to meet it with typical foresight."

This is by no means the first time that the weeklies have shown a calm awareness of vital problems. During the war years they rendered a truly great service to their country, inspiring their readers, supporting all worthy appeals and keeping their communities informed of changes in Government regulations and other important matters. This despite the fact that their small staffs were badly depleted through enlistments. In the period of peacetime reconstruction, the vigor of their voice has focused proper attention on many local problems.

Nor have weekly publishers let their handicaps and obstacles deter them in their pursuit of the highest standards of craftsmanship. The technical and artistic excellence of some Canadian country weeklies is universally recognized. The combination of technical improvement and editorial service has given this branch of the Fourth Estate an influence in Canadian life that no other publications can duplicate."

ELMIRA SHOWS THE WAY

Elmira has set an example to every municipality in the country in clean-up campaigns, declares The Financial Post. This year, every bit of land in the little town of south-western Ontario will get two sprayings with weed killing 2-4-D. Parks, vacant lots and roadsides, as well as all private property, will be treated.

Here is a clean-up campaign that is really going to get somewhere. In other places there will be community minded citizens who will spray their lawns, only to have them re-infested with weeds from the unsprayed areas next door.

Unless his neighbors and his municipal co-operate, all too often the man who tackles his own dandelions and plantains fights a losing battle. The spraying and weeding must be done over and over again.

Biggest delinquent in this fight against weeds is the municipality. Citizens are exhorting to clean up their own backyards while weeds thrive along the streets and in every vacant lot.

A FARMER AND AUTHOR

(By R. J. DEACHMAN)

John Atkins, Editor of the "Scene", has written a sensible story—that's not surprising. I have never known him to write a story which wasn't sensible.

There's a reason. He lives in the country. He is a farmer, he lives beside a lake. His office is in the bush. When the doors are open squirrels drop in to look at him and laugh at the sight of a big man pounding a typewriter. He laughs back at them and tells them that he is doing the same things as they are—chasing nuts—"nuts," in this case, being all voters who make up their minds how to vote without thinking of the issues of considering the facts.

In a recent story John says:

"Wages have always been too low because most people are allergic to the kind of work to which they are fitted. The great majority of people prefer idleness to work. They are not sufficiently interested in acquiring the things other people are willing to earn by work."

That's true. Wages should at all times be as high as possible consistent with a high level of employment.

What then should be the position of capital? Profits should be as high as possible consistent with full employment of capital. We will not have full employment of capital if the charge for its use is too high. If wage rates are too high there will be unemployment. If the rate charged for the use of capital is too high capital will be unemployed. Those who want to use it will not pay the price asked.

This brings up another question—statesmen might with advantage guard their promises. In England, Mr. Shinwall, Minister of Mines has his troubles. England needs more coal. The coal miners have a five day week. The problem is, can they produce as much in five days as they formerly could in six? Mr. Shinwall felt that if they were not given the five day week production would decline, the position would be worse than ever. This has been defined as a form of blackmail by which the course of action of the government is determined by the fear of being "held up" by labor.

The miners are not responsible for this. They have been told by the Labor Party in Great Britain that anything they wanted could, with ease, be taken from the rich and as the rich already had too much it might be good for them to lose a part of it.

This doctrine is by no means soundly based. The total wealth of the rich, while it sounds large in a statistical sense, can be easily dissipated. When that happens the burdens formerly imposed on the rich fall on lower income groups. It will move lower and lower as the remaining rich are further reduced, finally it will fall on the workers themselves and, in course of time, they will be compelled to work harder for what they get.

This proves only one thing, capital is vital to production and if the total volume of it could be distributed tomorrow among the lower income groups the condition would soon be worse not better. Progress will come, of course, from the elimination of special privileges whether these special privileges are held by labor or by any other group. The power of the state to exploit the people is dangerous to all free men.

Noticed it again last Saturday at the corner of Main and Depot. An arrow sign pointing the way to the Rummage Sale. A woman can make more money than a man for some charitable purpose, but she can also spend more of the man's money for her own individual purposes. Women are queer things, but men are queerer.

Plans for a new 545-bed Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto were announced last week by the Board of Trustees. The new structure will be erected between Gerrard and Elm Streets, with main frontage on University Avenue. The volume of the building will be 5,000,000 cubic feet and will be constructed of concrete and steel with exterior walls faced with brick and stone trimming. The building will contain eleven floors and is expected to be opened in 1949. The hospital will serve all parts of Ontario. Funds for the building were collected during a Province-wide appeal two years ago.

'WAY BACK WHEN

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

(By FRANCES STOCKWELL LAVELL, in Christian Science Monitor)

When I was a little girl in looped-up braids, black cotton stockings, and long, richy underwear, we looked forward to the jingle of the tin-peddler's cart as his raw-boned horse wearily pulled it up the steep hill to our house. The tin-peddler's cart was what the five-and-dime store, the movies, and an airplane ride are to this generation of youngsters today.

The tin-peddler announced his coming by a lugubrious, continuous cry of "Rags—anybody got any rags—anybody got any old papers today?" The tin-peddler took almost anything in exchange for the glittering board of rattling tin pans and kettles which decorated the sides of his cart like bangles on a Christmas tree or the bouquet of fragrant corn-brooms tied onto the back of it.

We usually came on Saturday, the same day that the butter and cheese woman drove from the country in her old black buggy. It was a bad day for us if the tin-peddler came on a school day. I don't think he came around in the winter. I always remember him on creaking, straining wheels. The tin-peddler was the forerunner of the general store of the 1850's and that was the predecessor of our cabin stores and emporiums of today.

The first peddlers in 1830 were Jews and Germans, all immigrants from Germany but hailing from Pennsylvania, where they had settled. The first of these walked, leading a horse who carried their wares. While they preferred cash for their stock of lace, pins and needles, cloth, patent medicines for man and beast, smoked and salted fish and meat, hats and pots and kettles, they would always accept produce instead.

As farmers grouped together into small villages, the perambulating peddlers made these little settlements their headquarters, gradually affixed their stock in trade to a permanent place, and thus birthed the general store which flourishes today in small places all over the country. A flourishing men's-wear shop in our town was started by a German Jew who came to town with a pack on his back—and remained for more than thirty years.

A real country store was the delight of my childhood. It ran a close second to the tin-peddler after his lovely, jingly cart no longer appeared on the streets. Over in Weston, Vermont, last summer, the old country store was revived by a man who has also brought back the old grist mill where he grinds out cornmeal and wheat with ancient millstones amid the soft splashing of falling water. In this store, with its red front and cracker-barrel, its kerosene lanterns and coffee grinder, is the familiar and long-lost aroma we used to know. There is the pickle barrel and the keg of dry beans; salt codfish and men's work gloves, side by side. There is the chunky stove and the box of sawdust for the cracker-barrel forum. But mostly, the corner store has blossomed forth under a chain-store corporation name and is as modern as nylon hose!

In New York, in 1814, stores were pretty scarce and everything was sold from hand to mouth from a cart or barrow pushed through the streets, forerunner of the push-cart peddler. These might include a barrel of buttermilk on a wheelbarrow, with the dipper in the top, or a huge jug of sweet milk, also to be dipped out into receptacles on the steps of houses.

The scissors-grinder was a necessary complement to life, and he also sharpened anything in the house from razors to butchering knives. He mended umbrellas, too, and rang a bell to advertise his coming. Sometimes he pushed his equipment or carried it on his back. I remember the umbrella-mender, who camped on our back steps every spring and fixed everything that needed sharpening in the house.

The early vendor of homely necessities included, perhaps, a Negro boy trundling pails of yeast suspended from his shoulders by a yoke, and announcing his coming by tools on a rascous horn. Or an old man might carry a jug of mint water through the streets, with a funnel and a measure.

The general store was in its heyday before the Civil War but it lasted much longer. It is an American institution and even the enamel of red and blue fronts, chain-store names and chain-store foods, cannot take away the need of this country for corner stores in small communities. Today, the owner often lives upstairs or next door, as he always did, and is still postmaster as he was 75 years ago. That is, if it is a real country store.

The basis of survival in the early stores was, like the peddler's, the barter system—not the cash-and-carry of today. Customers usually carried their own supplies home in a buggy or sleigh, but many families depended on exchange of produce for store supplies. They traded eggs and butter for needles and pins (they called them "Kankas notions"). They swapped maple sugar and hams for a dress pattern of cloth. They carried in a load of cabbage or winter squash toward their bill for shoes and sugar. The old furry, calf-bound ledgers of the old stores are mute and interesting witness to this fact and the prices quoted sound ridiculous to us today.

So has the store come down through the years, through the first laborious trappings of the peddler, who were of foreign extraction, to the early village stores and on to the fashionable emporiums of today and the Great White Ways of the large cities.

STRICTLY CANADIAN

By CLAUDE WALLACE

Lucky the bride-to-be who is the recipient of showers before her marriage. For years afterwards she will be grateful to her friends for the household aids presented to her at these gay pre-nuptial parties.

It is to the Dutch we owe the custom of the bridal shower. According to a legend, a Dutch girl fell in love with a poor miller, but her ambitious father, hoping for a rich son-in-law, refused permission for their marriage. In those days, girls didn't earn their own money so their father purchased the trousseau of household goods, as well as clothing. This hard-hearted pater refused to buy his daughter as much as a dish towel. Well, the young couple eloped anyway and then friends of the bridegroom rallied around and, in a party, literally "showered" the bride with gifts for the house. It was considered such a kindly idea and such a useful one, that bridal showers have been with us ever since.

Those who may, with propriety, give a shower for a bride are her friends, members of the groom's family or distant relatives of the bride—that is, relatives outside her immediate family. But it is not in good taste for one closely related to the bride to suggest a shower for her.

A "money" shower is not advisable, etiquette speaking, although money may be collected before the party and one substantial gift purchased for presentation. But half the fun is opening all the little parcels that are usually showered on a bride—finding the useful or amusing surprises therein—and this is the type most brides appreciate.

Bridal showers should not be allowed to get out of hand. Asked come too expensive affairs, as most of those attending may be expected to participate in others for the same bride, and if invited to that extent, must buy a wedding present, too. Probably one of the maddest things ever seen in this country was that given for a Canadian bride a few months ago. One of the little gifts she received at the affair was a single real pearl that cost one thousand dollars! But that's not for the rest of us, and the average Canadian bride is delighted with a shower in which the gifts she receives average one dollar in cost; that isn't too hard on her friends, nor does it put her too much in their debt.

It is not necessary for a bride to make a speech at a shower, as you can all leave a sigh of relief on that score, and writing individual notes of thanks is not required either. Suffice it to say a gracious "Thank you" to the donor, as each gift is opened and add a breezy but appreciative word about it being useful or pretty.

Questions—Etiquette—Answers
GLOVES ON: Cecilia P. Montreal, writes: "When a lady is introduced to either a lady or gentleman, should she shake hands with the man?"

ANSWER: No. She keeps her gloves on and pays that promised them on. As well as a rule for everyday life, think our country, we will never run into royalty. When Princess Elizabeth lucky ones to be in visit to Canada some time, and is travelling are your gloves on, because all be hoping to meet her. If you are one of them.

STAIRS: W. H. Ottawa, writes: "Will you remove her glove in going up and down stairs, the lady or gentleman?"

ANSWER: In going upstairs, the woman precedes the man, and in going down stairs, the man precedes the woman.

SWITCH: In going upstairs, the woman precedes the man, and in going down stairs, the man precedes the woman. However, if the woman is hostess, she should switch on lights. In descending, a man leads the way, as he is then in a position to turn and lend a hand if the steps are dangerous ones.

Hello Homemakers! The preserved berries which you enjoy so much in the winter are now ripening and once again the canning season is here. It is wise to determine the portion of each variety to be made in accordance with the amount of available sugar. Actually most of us have become accustomed to less-sweet foods and this along with the canning sugar quota should enable us to do all we need.

To make sure that your time and expense is not lost, we remind you to follow instructions carefully. Manufacturers of commercial pectins have been explicit and generous in providing recipes along with their products and for that reason we give little attention to jams, jellies and conserves using pectin in liquid or crystal or powdered form. However, we do offer this advice: Follow directions exactly for the measure of fruit, sugar and pectin; do not double or halve the ingredients—if you want to increase the batch, repeat the making several times if necessary.

If you are not using pectin, select fruit which is slightly under-ripe, for the most successful jams and jellies. When you use pectin, full-ripe fruit may be used for rich flavour. With less-tart fruits, lemon juice is often added to make the proper balance of acid, sugar and pectin necessary for jelling.

Jams and jellies may be sealed in one of two ways. If you use paraffin, have it as hot as possible (heat over boiling water, for safety) and pour over the jelly the moment the hot sterilized jars are filled; use only a thin film to cover. When cold, assure seal with additional melted paraffin tilling the glass to run the wax around the edge. Keep the tops clean by covering with waxed paper or clipping on the metal covers of the glasses. Or you can use the convenient packaged seals: fill jar to within 1/4 inch of the top then place the wetted seal directly on top of hot fruit. Press seal closely around the edges; keep seal smooth, but do not stretch.

RASPBERRY JAM
(without added pectin)

8 cups ripe raspberries
8 cups granulated sugar.
Pick over berries carefully. Mash thoroughly and cook gently for 10 minutes, stir frequently. Stir in the warmed sugar; simmer gently until thickened, stirring often. Let stand a few moments, skim and turn into hot sterilized jars. Seal.

GOOSEBERRY AND RHUBARB JAM

1 quart gooseberries
2 quarts rhubarb
1/4 cup water
5 cups sugar
Remove stem and blossom ends from the gooseberries, using scissors. Wash rhubarb and cut in one inch pieces. Do not peel. Add the water to the gooseberries and cook until gooseberries are soft. Add rhubarb and sugar and continue cooking until the jam is thick—about 30 minutes, stirring occasionally so that the jam does not burn. Skim and pour into hot, sterilized glasses. When cold, cover with melted paraffin wax, adjust covers, label and store.

JEWEL JAM

1 quart pitted cherries
1 quart gooseberries
1 quart red currants
1 quart raspberries
8 cups sugar
Wash and pit cherries and put in kettle with 2 cups of the sugar. Bring to the boil and boil for 5 minutes. Then add the quart of cleaned gooseberries and 2 more cups of sugar. Bring to the boil and boil 5 minutes. Then add the quart of cleaned red currants and quart of cleaned raspberries and 4 cups sugar. Bring to boil and boil 5 minutes. Pour into hot sterilized jars and when cool, seal with paraffin. Yield: Approximately 4 pints.

BLACK CURRANT JAM

2 quarts black currants
1 1/4 cups water
4 1/4 cups sugar
1/2 cup honey
Top and tail the black currants. Simmer the fruit and water for 10 minutes. Add sugar and honey and cook about 15 minutes or until thick.

A SPECIAL NOTE

We pay high tribute to Women's Institutes whose organization was formed 59 years ago. The first meeting place was Stoney Creek, Ontario, and since that time Women's Institutes have been formed throughout the world. At this time, we treasure their goals in raising the standards of homemaking and we wish each leader continued success.

Anne Allan invites you to write to her c/o The Grimsby Independent, Grimsby, Ontario. Send in your suggestions on homemaking problems and watch this column for replies.

TAKE A TIP

1. Purchase or make a box filler to use in packaging. A tin can with the ends cut out smoothly will do the job.

2. Find a wooden block about six inches high to press the interlinings on as you seal with an iron.

3. A small flour scoop is the handiest gadget to fill cartons with peas, corn, beans or berries.

4. It is not advisable to freeze tomatoes, potatoes and cauliflower. These are the few vegetables which do not retain colour and flavour.

Mrs. G. W. says sliced or crushed fruit sprinkled with sugar keeps flavour and colour of frozen berries.

Anne Allan invites you to write to her c/o The Grimsby Independent. Send in your suggestions on homemaking problems and watch this column for replies.

You will find that very few big shots are gun shy.

Another reason there are more fault-finders than fact-finders is that one has to dig to find facts.

GRAPE GROWERS WILL ENGAGE IN PROCESSING AND MARKETING FRUIT

(St. Catharines Standard)

The announcement Wednesday that the Ontario Grape Growers' Co-operative, Limited, a newly-formed, peninsula-wide organization, would undertake in conjunction with the internationally known grape processing firm, Welch Grape Juice Co. Ltd., the construction of a $300,000 grape processing plant in St. Catharines, has attracted considerable interest and is viewed as of major importance. It marks the first definite step by a fruit growers' co-operative in the Niagara Peninsula to engage not only in the processing of fruit, but to provide within the organization an established marketing sales and distribution outlet for fruit products.

Prominent district grape growers will form the directorate of the Growers' Co-operative Limited. They are: Frederick J. Parker, Louth Township; Frank A. Stewart, Niagara Township; Niagara Township councillor; Frank R. Lee, Saltfleet Township; Frederick Corda, Louth; Leslie G. Nelles, Grimsby; and Murray M. Utter, Saltfleet. Murion A. Seymour, K.C., St. Catharines, is solicitor for the new organization.

The four points listed as the ultimate objectives of the co-operative are as follows:

1. To buy, sell and deal in grapes and other fruits and vegetables.
2. To construct and operate a processing plant for processing grapes and other fruits and vegetables.
3. To construct and operate cold storage facilities.

YOUTH OF U.S. AFRAID OF STRENUOUS EXERCISE

Boston—Americans, young and old, had better get back to daily setting-up exercises and forget "joyous" programs of games and sports, Dr. Elwood Craig Davis, University of Louisville dean of men, warned at the meeting here of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The "Moms" of the nation were blamed by Dr. Davis for much of the softness and physical unfitness of draftees in the last war. Quoting Army figures that about 60 per cent. of servicemen could not pass the minimum standards of physical fitness when they began recruit training, Dr. Davis said: "Little has been printed or said about the fact that a great many young men in their teens and early twenties at first showed marked timidity or fear toward physically exerting themselves."

This was one of the most serious obstacles to helping these men reach a fair degree of physical condition.

"The long-established fear of over-doing physically, probably first learned at 'Mom's' knee, served to violate two physiological principles related to physical fitness."

"The first is that muscular strength is developed only through maximum contraction of muscle per unit of time. The second is that heart-lung endurance is developed only by pushing one's self past the point of fatigue."

Only half of all homes in Canada have a private bath or shower.

"MISS REGINA"

TOP THIS ONE

Friday morning. On Saturday afternoon, "Red" Graham came tearing into the office with a Scotch Thistle that measured seven feet three inches. The leaf at its widest part measured 11 inches. "Red" also claims that Mrs. Dr. Smith has Delphiniums in her garden that measure eight feet six inches. "Sandy", where art thou?

This squib is written on Monday afternoon. Dr. "Jimmy" Mather walked into the office and left a half a bushel of new home grown pens for the Editor and his staff. What a choice morsel or Ma to put on the table on our Natal Day. It kind of looks to me like the young agriculturalists are giving "Red" Graham the run-around. I think that "Red" is wasting too much time with the birds, the bees and the flowers.

AMENDMENTS TO

amendments to the Highways Act, automatic suspension would also follow conviction where an accident occurred arising out of: failure to stop at a through or stop street; failure to heed a traffic signal; improper turn at an intersection; failure to signal properly when turning; driving without prescribed lights; operating with defective brakes; overcrowding the driver's seat; and finally, numerous other offences usually classed as minor. Suspension of driver's and owner's licenses would continue to apply to persons convicted of such offences as drunk or reckless driving whether they are involved in accidents or not.

Referring to the Unsatisfied Judgment Fund, an important feature of the new legislation, the Minister said: "This provides a measure of financial protection for the unfortunate victims of hit-and-run drivers and of drivers financially unable to pay for damages caused by the operation of their vehicles. Previously, it was compulsory for persons to satisfy judgments arising out of motor vehicle accidents, providing such judgments were for property damage exceeding $25.00, or for personal injuries. Under the new law, there is no minimum amount specified for property damage, and every judgment arising out of a motor vehicle accident must be paid or the driver's license and owner's permit will be suspended until the judgment is paid in full, and proof of ability to pay any future judgments is filed with the Department. In this connection, I should add that if a person's license to drive or own a motor vehicle is suspended and the vehicle for which that permit was issued is operated by anyone, that vehicle will be seized by the Crown and sold."

Stating that the Unsatisfied Judgment Fund was created to pay judgments which could not be collected from the motorists against whom the judgments were secured, Mr. Doucet explained that payments would be made from the Fund only on court orders. There was no minimum for the amount of a judgment, but there was a maximum of $5,000. for one person, $10,000 for two or more persons, and $1,000 for property damage arising out of an accident caused by other than a hit-and-run driver. Financial protection, other than property damage, is provided for victims of hit-and-run drivers, either killed or injured.

MILLEN—BOYCE

On Thursday, June 19th, Rev. A. Lee, of Canboro, united in marriage Constance Jeanne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard V. Boyce, of Fruitland, and Richard Randall Millen, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Millen, of Vinemount. The setting for the double ring ceremony was the garden of the bride's parents' home.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with a lace yoke. Her veil was held in place by a band of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pale pink and white roses.

The attendants, Miss Ruth Manning, maid of honour, and Miss Marilyn Boyce, sister of the bride, wore gowns of pale pink and pale orchid. They carried matching bouquets.

After the ceremony a reception was held at The Pines. Mrs. Boyce, the bride's mother, received in powder blue nylon lace with white accessories and corsage of pink sweet peas. Mrs. Millen, mother of the groom, assisted groomed in dusty pink crepe with white accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Among the many guests were the four grandmothers of the young couple, Mrs. W. D. Fletcher of Fruitland, Mrs. M. C. Boyce, of Hudson's Falls, New York, Mrs. D. Randall of Vinemount and Mrs. M. Millen of Stony Creek.

The bride and groom left on a honeymoon in New York and Northern Ontario.

CLAUSEN—CRAMER

In Trinity United Church on Saturday, June 28th, the Rev'd W. J. Watt officiated at the marriage of Alice, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cramer, of Grimsby, and Howard Andrew, son of Mrs. Clausen and the late Mr. Emil Clausen, of Ancaster Township.

The church was decorated with pennants and streamers with ferns, pink and white candles being used. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white nylon satin gown, made with form-fitting bodice having a sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves ending in points on the hands. The skirt was full and formed a short train. Her finger-tip veil of French net was draped from a beehive of Honiton lace, which had been worn by her grandmother. Her bouquet was red roses with white carnations.

Miss Kathleen Yeager, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a floor-length dress of white corded tulle with short puff sleeves and round neckline. Her long gloves were of pink net, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas, with bandeau of matching flowers.

Mr. Robert Clausen, brother of the groom, was the best man, and Mr. David Moore, of Hamilton, the groom's cousin, and Mr. John Bruce, of Port Erie, cousin of the bride, served as ushers.

Mr. John Ansell sang "Still as the Night," and "I'll Walk Beside You," with Miss Ansell Current accompanying at the organ.

A reception was held at the Village Inn, the guests afterwards going on to the home of the bride's parents.

Out of town guests from Burlington, Brantford, Port Erie, Ancaster, Toronto and Hamilton, attended the ceremony and reception.

The young couple left for a motor trip in Eastern Ontario, the bride wearing a grey-blue dress of figured marquisette and a blue summer felt hat with French flowers and carrying a grey summer coat, with white accessories. Her future home is near Mount Hope, in Ancaster Township.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES

Commencing next Sunday, July 6th, the United and the Baptist Churches in Grimsby will hold holiday union meetings with the morning services in Trinity United Church at eleven o'clock and evening services in the Baptist Church at seven o'clock.

The Baptist Sunday School will meet as usual in their school hall at ten o'clock a.m. throughout the summer. The regular Sunday School of the United church has been withdrawn but there will be a period of bible study for those of that church who desire and this will be held next Sunday at two thirty o'clock p.m. in Trinity Hall when a decision will be made as to the time and place of the meeting for the rest of the summer.

Rev. Mr. McLean of the Baptist Church will conduct the services and be available for any pastoral work necessary in both churches for July and Rev. Mr. Griffith, the new minister elect of the United Church, throughout August.

The services will be bright and brief and a special effort will be put forth to make them both interesting and helpful.

For the month of July, Mr. McLean plans to present three different groups of studies. One in the morning to the junior members of the congregation on "Sign Language." These will be very brief indeed. The second to be given at the morning service will be entitled "Life on the Uplands" and is an exposition of the twenty third Psalm with special reference to the "time notes" that are so apparent to the careful student. The third will be given in the evenings and is entitled "Four aspects of the Holy City, New Jerusalem as given in the Apocalypse." Of these the first two will be negative and the last two positive. It is quite possible that the negative aspects may be at least as significant as the positive ones.

A bad youngster is usually the one who has picked up all of his own words from daddy.

WOMEN TEACHERS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL PICNIC

The Lincoln County Women Teachers held their annual picnic, meeting at Fairview School in Louth recently. After supper Miss Helen Gibson, the retiring president, spoke briefly about the work of the past year and expressed the best wishes of the group to several members who are leaving the local Association. SKIN INFLAMMATION

Industrial health authorities at Ottawa were against use as skin cleansers of such industrial solvents as gasoline, kerosene, petroleum spirits and paint-thinners.

By their defatting action, such substances can cause skin inflammation. Those handling them are advised to use solvent-proof gloves, and, if there is danger of splashing or air-borne mist, to smear exposed skin surfaces with a protective cream.

SLACKS AND SWEATER

By PRUNELLA WOOD

It's a good thing to have a pair of slacks in your summer wardrobe, for vacation or home moments of relaxation. This department could never see why such slacks should not be flattering, moreover, cut to fit and enhance. No sense in letting this collegiate love of shapeless dungarees spread, say we.

For sailing, for gardening, for the lesser exercise of walking through the rain even, we praise slacks. These pictured are navy rayon faille; the sweater, worn over a T shirt, is navy wool with a white yoke, and red darts joining body and yoke.

Engagement

At a dinner in their Winnetka home, Mr. and Mrs. Murray E. Randall announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jacqueline, to Mr. Charles Wellington Chidsey, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Chidsey of Evanston, Illinois.

Miss Randall who attended Northwestern University was a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and will graduate this fall from the Wesley Memorial Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. Chidsey, who served as a captain in the China-Burma-India theatre during the war, will complete his senior year at Northwestern University this summer. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Randall is the granddaughter of Mrs. James E. Randall of the Hermitage, Grimsby, and the late Dr. R. A. Alexander.

SUFFERS BROKEN LIMB IN SIDEWALK FALL

One of Grimsby's venerable citizens is confined to Hamilton General hospital suffering from injuries that she received in a fall on the sidewalk at the bus stop in front of Lincoln Electric Supply store on Monday noon of this week.

Mrs. William Shelton, 81, had just stepped off the bus from St. Catharines at 1.15 and as she stepped onto the sidewalk stumbled on the curb and fell very heavily on her knees and face. She suffered a severe shock and when Dr. Bowers arrived he ordered her removed to West Lincoln Memorial hospital where it was found that her one knee had been broken at the joint and the bone splintered. It was deemed advisable to remove her to Hamilton hospital where she is now resting as well as can be expected.

SICK ROOM EQUIPMENT LOAN CUPBOARD

On display at the Model Dairy this week are the sick room supplies which can be borrowed from the Red Cross upon receipt of a call from your doctor. The cupboard will be in operation July 7th and includes a wheel-chair, commode chair, and a hospital bed, the bed requiring one extra day for delivery.

WATER SAFETY

Swimming Classes have started at Grimsby Beach and Nelles Sideroad. The Red Cross is aiming to teach every child to swim. Did you know that in Ontario on June 14th weekend there were sixteen fatalities from drowning? Avoid this by seeing that your child takes advantage of these classes. Registration forms can be secured from the life guards or from Bourne's Store and must be signed by the parents. Attendance cards will be given to the children and there will be a prize for this.

Ruth Powell is organizing the classes. Mr. Cecil Bell, Mrs. H. Powell and Mrs. R. Cole are the Water Safety Committee. The Lions Club and Cottagers' Association are co-operating with the Red Cross to give your child every advantage.

Obituary

MISS EDITH KENNEDY

A resident of Philadelphia for the last 16 years, and formerly of Toronto, where she spent the greater part of her life, Miss Edith Kennedy (Georgie) Kennedy, died Thursday night at Grimsby Beach, where she had come to spend the summer months.

A daughter of the late Capt. Joseph Kennedy of Toronto, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. T. Y. Kennedy and Miss Madge Kennedy, both of Philadelphia, who were in Grimsby Beach with her.

Remains rested at the A. W. Miles Funeral Chapel, Toronto, for funeral service on Saturday afternoon. Interment was made in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

MRS. HANS MELZER

Native of Czechoslovakia, and resident of Grimsby for the last seven years, Mrs. Hans Melzer, died in Hamilton General Hospital on Sunday, following a lengthy illness.

In her 56th year, she was born in the province of Bohemia, coming to Ontario with her family in 1940. She was a member of the Roman Catholic Church.

Surviving besides her husband, is a daughter, Mrs. Liselet Komor, of New York City; also a brother, Dr. Julius Glaser, in New York City, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth de Winter, Vienna, Austria.

Remains rested at the Stonehouse Funeral Home, Grimsby, until Wednesday morning when Rev. Joseph's Church with Rev. Father B. A. O'Donnell officiating. Interment was made in Queen's Lawn cemetery.

Casket bearers were Dr. A. F. McIntyre, Major Nelles Ashton, Berenford Scott, Malcolm Nelles, Robert Glasner and Paul Bechert.

MRS. J. E. J. MILLIARD

Clara Bertha Milliard, wife of Rev. J. E. J. Milliard, London, Ontario, died Tuesday, June 24th, at Mason Villa Hospital in her 74th year after an illness of six months.

Born Clara Bertha Bigham at Beachville, Ontario, she moved at an early age to Union, Ontario, where she received her early education and became organist of the Methodist Church. Here she married the Rev. J. E. J. Milliard and for over forty years worked faithfully by his side in the active work of the Master. She especially enjoyed organizing and conducting Junior Congregations in the many churches in which they served.

The last 12 years she lived in London, Ontario. Prior to that at Peterborough, Sarnia, Kingsville, Listowel, Hensall, Birr, Embro and Morpeth. She was a life member of the W.C.T.U. and the United Church Women's Association, and at the time of her death a member of Calvary United Church, London, Ontario.

Surviving are her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Frances W. Davies, Detroit; Mrs. Ruth Willoughby, London; Mrs. Thelma Theal, Welland; and one son, Carman D. Milliard, Grimsby.

The funeral service took place Friday afternoon at the A. Millard George Funeral Home, London, the service being conducted by the Rev. L. C. Lawson.

The casket bearers were retired United Church ministers: The Reverends Toll, Armstrong, Agnew, Hicks, Jones and Johnston. Interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Breathes there a little boy with soul so dead who has never watched the ball game through a knot-hole in the fence.

Trinity Service Club

A delightful tea was held by Trinity Service Club on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. W. Powell, Kerman Avenue, at which many attended. Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Russell Terry received the guests. While tea was served in the house, the social part of the party was held outside on the lawn. Mrs. William Hewson was convener of the tea, Mrs. E. W. Phelps, Mrs. Reginald Cloughley, Mrs. Arthur Clark and Mrs. Laurence Hymert poured, and Mrs. Earl Marsh, Mrs. Wilbert Zimmerman, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. Earl Cornwell, Mrs. N. B. Bowers, Mrs. William Hammond and Mrs. Douglas Hartnett served.

SPORTOLOGY
(By Bones Livingston, Sportologist)
SPORT FANS, BE GENEROUS

Down on Elizabeth street as good a little sport as ever lived, is fighting a winning fight against illness. He is Mike Sweet, one of the trainers of the Champion Peach Kings. Mike has just finished a 10-day stretch in hospital. He is still a long ways from being a well man. Dr. Christie says that he will have to take local treatments for some time to come.

Mike Sweet has been an indefatigable trainer and handler of hockey players and ball players for a lot of years. He has given of his time and of his meagre money to help foster Peach Kings teams in this district. Now Mike is up against it and needs help.

He never was anything but an honest, working boy for his day's pay. Now that he cannot work, there is no pay, but still he and his wife must have the necessities of life. Hospital and doctor bills must be paid.

Sport fans of the Fruit Belt, it is up to you. Mike gave of his time and money to building hockey and softball teams for your pleasure. Now you must help him in his hour of need.

The Independent is opening a public subscription list to be known as the "Mike Sweet Fund." We are heading this list off with a cheque for $10. It is up to you sporting people of the district to come through with your nickels, dimes, quarters, dollar and two dollar bills and as much more as you feel that you can give to this good cause.

Please bring or send your contributions to The Independent office and you will receive a receipt for them.

This is one time that you can show your appreciation for the work that a real sport has done for you in the past.

IT'S GREAT BALL WEATHER—When the sun beams hot and the fans are perspiring, then that is great ball weather. That is the time that the pitchers work the best and the bats that cover the base-paths and outfield really work themselves into a lather. The past 10 days has been ideal weather for the horseshoe chasers. Last Wednesday night the hickory wielders in the FRUIT BELT League made runaway races of two games. GRIMSBY LEADON after playing a terrific game to beat STONEY CREEK 2-0 wended their way back to SMITHVILLE and let the hay-kickers from the southern metropolis smother them under a 11-1 score. At the same time STONEY CREEK were slapping BEAMSVILLE down to the tune of 12-1. Then on Friday night SMITHVILLE took it on the chin from WINONA 9-5, while GRIMSBY MOUNTAINS were taking a 10-4 pasting from the CREEKERS, and GRIMSBY was doing its damndest to hold JORDAN to a 12-all tie. FRANK COLLINS has no authentic information for this but he understands that BEAMSVILLE won over STOP 60. No score reported. . . . One thing about this hot weather it gives "RED" GRAHAM a chance to parade in his several varieties of Palm Beach suits with his little red sailor's cap with the red band. At that, "RED" is the best paying sport in Grimsby. Every game costs the old lad a buck bill. In other words he is paying all the time for the other fellow's fun. It ever was thus.

LEGION SOFTBALLERS PLAYING SMART BALL
Sparked by the superb pitching of Gordie Buchan the Grimsby Legion's softball team took a close decision over Winona last Monday evening. The game remained scoreless until the second half of the second inning when Buchan of Grimsby scored his own first run. Grimsby threatened again in the fifth when they loaded the bases but Miller filed out. The other two runs were scored in the last of the seventh. Smith of Grimsby hit a long high one and circled the diamond for the only homer of the game, and then Guy Winters scored on a long double by John Miller. Winona failed to tally a run and the final score was Grimsby 3, Winona 0.

There it comes to getting a better view of life, many a man wants a front-row seat. . . .
Some men talk out in the meeting while others just take up the meeting with their talk.

MOTORISTS JEOPARDISE

break was 30 feet in length.
A highway employee, John Woodford, of Fruitland, narrowly escaped death while guarding the barricaded break on the Queen Elizabeth during Saturday night when a speeding motorist, ignoring the string of red lanterns on the barricade and the one being swung by the watchman, crashed right through. Mr. Woodford came within inches of being struck by the car, just managing to jump clear in time. Pieces of the wooden barricade were strewn for 100 yards down the road and a head light was knocked off the car which continued on its way as though nothing had happened.

Workers repairing the break on Sunday morning were lead in their complaints over speeding cars.
Despite the fact that they were working on the road in broad daylight, they had to jump clear to avoid being hit on more than one occasion.

"This is a good example of what highway workmen have to contend with," one said. "Signs, red lanterns or flag men do not mean a thing to a lot of to-day's motorists."

HAS HOPE FOR

capable of producing millions of spores under proper atmospheric conditions. In the spring when the buds were beginning to burst on the fruit bearing trees, the mummied fruits produced from one to 30 small, brown, cup-like discs or apothecia, measuring from a quarter to half an inch in diameter. Inside the cups were millions of tiny sacs each of which contained eight microscopic spores capable of starting new infections. In damp weather these sacs swell and burst, forcibly ejecting the tiny spores which were then carried by wind or air currents to the blossoming trees.

These early spring infections, it was stated, may include what is known as blossom blight, stem rot, or in some instances may affect leaves and twigs. In dry seasons very little injury is noted even in unsprayed orchards, as dampness is essential for the germination of the spores.

The second stage of the life history of the disease, Dr. Willison stated, is the conidial stage. Under moist conditions tufts of fungus made up of groups of conidiophores appear on the diseased parts, the blighted blossoms, immature fruits, leaves or twigs. The conidia are carried by winds and rains to the developing fruit, especially fruits injured by insects or diseases, where they germinate at once, sending the germ tubes into the fruit. Under warm humid conditions the mycelium develops rapidly and soon the infected fruit may be completely rotted. More conidial tufts appear, more spores are formed and thus the cycle continues until at harvest time the disease may be very prevalent in an orchard and may cause great loss unless an adequate spray program has been followed. Mature fruit was much more susceptible to the disease than immature fruit. Dr.
Willison stated, and bruises from careless handling frequently furnish the avenue of entrance to the spores.

The present program of spraying for peaches, cherries and plums as outlined in the spray calendar furnished to the growers, should adequately control the disease, Dr.
Willison stated. He emphasized, however, that the number of sprays recommended is a minimum, and that during wet seasons extra spraying may be necessary. "Moisture," it was stated, "not only favours the growth of the fungus, and production and germination of the spores, but it also renders the fruit tender and watery and therefore more susceptible to rot. In a dry season a peach crop may be expected to reach maturity practically free from rot, but when a series of cloudy days with frequent showers occurs about picking time, half or even all of the crop may be destroyed by rot if precautionary measures have not been followed. Prolonged, cloudy, drizzly weather, even though precipitation may not be great, is far more dangerous than heavy rain followed by clearing. Hot weather also favours the growth of the fungus
and increases the danger."

The spray program for rot control, Dr. Willison advised, should also include control of peach scab and curculio, since it has been found that in districts suffering heavy losses from brown rot, scab and curculio have been abundant.
Cracks and wounds made in the

are common avenues of entrance for the brown rot spores. One dormant and four summer sprays were recommended in the spray calendar for peaches, Dr. Willison stated, but this season growers would be well advised to add an extra mid-summer spray, as well as extra sprays and dust during the harvesting season unless the season is unusually dry. For cherries, he advised a strict adherence to the outlined program.

Cultivation also, Dr. Willison stated, plays an important role in the control of the brown rot di-ease. Peach mummies that are deeply buried by plowing or harrowing, he said, are not likely to produce apothecia, although if only lightly covered with one or two inches of soil the cup-like discs may appear above the soil in the spring and during the blossoming season is also likely to disturb the partially formed apothecia and prevent their development. Growers should remember, however, it was stated, that mummied fruit is capable of producing apothecia for a number of years, and that mummies two years old or over are more likely to produce spores than those of the past season. Therefore mummies buried by plowing one season and brought again to the surface by next year's plowing are very likely sources of infection.

The sanitary practice of gathering the infected fruit after the harvest and burying it in trenches at least 34 inches below the surface, was probably the surest method of ridging the orchard of infection.
Dr. Willison stated, and it was being recommended by orchardists in various parts of the United States.

Another sanitary practice advised by Dr. Willison, was the careful handling of fruit in harvesting.
Pickers would be warned, he said, not to handle infected fruit as the spores will be transferred directly to the good fruit, causing infection which may possibly develop before the fruit reaches the consumer.

Each year more growers in the district were following the recommended spray program, Dr. Willson stated, with great advantage to themselves and their reputation.
The co-operation of all growers, however, was necessary to combat this insidious disease, and create a better market for the fruits of the Niagara district.

ONE IN MILLION

In this case two heads may not be better than one but they are certainly more unusual. The kitten with two heads was born to a cat owned by Mrs. Emily Mason, of Queens, N.Y. The two heads have four eyes, two noses, two mouths and only two ears. Experts say it happens once in a million births.

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE TO THE MOTORING PUBLIC

Re: 1947 Amendments to the Ontario
Highway Traffic Act

Every motor vehicle owner and driver should become familiar with the new 1947 amendments to the Highway Traffic Act. The purpose of this legislation is to encourage safe driving and to assure the collection of damages awarded by our Courts for personal injuries suffered or property damaged.

On and After July 1st, 1947

On and after July 1st, 1947, your driver's license and all motor vehicle permits registered in your name will be suspended if, following an accident in which any person is injured or any property is damaged, you are convicted of:

- Any violation of a provision of the Highway Traffic Act.
- If, upon conviction for a violation of the Act even though no accident occurred, the penalty imposed by the Magistrate includes suspension or revocation of your driver's license or motor vehicle permit.
- If you are convicted of a criminal offence involving the use of a motor vehicle.

After July 1st, 1947, your driver's license and all motor vehicle permits registered in your name will be suspended if you fail to satisfy a judgment secured against you for damages on account of injury to or death of any person or on account of damage to property. Such judgment must be satisfied at least up to the limits of $5,000.00 for personal injuries to one person, $10,000.00 for two or more persons and $1,000.00 for property damage arising out of any one accident.

Application of Suspensions

Where a suspension is applied following the registration of a conviction, some will remain in effect until proof of financial responsibility is filed.

Where a suspension is applied for failure to satisfy a judgment, some will remain in effect until the judgment has been satisfied or arrangements made for its payment by instalments and proof of financial responsibility is also filed.

Proof of financial responsibility may be filed (a) in the form of an insurance policy certificate; (b) the bond of a guarantee company; (c) the depositing of money or securities to the value of $11,000.00.

Application of Penalties

The penalties for a person operating a motor vehicle while his license is under suspension include a fine up to $500.00 and imprisonment up to six months, also the impounding of the motor vehicle operated. The penalty for the operation of a motor vehicle, the permit for which is under suspension includes a fine up to $500.00, imprisonment for six months and the forfeiture of the vehicle to the Crown.

TRUMAN HONORS CANADIAN GENERAL

President Harry S. Truman, as commander-in-chief of the U.S. armed forces, presented the United States Legion of Merit, Degree of Commander, to Canada's senior army officer, Lieut.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, U.S. C.B.E., D.S.O., Chief of the General Staff, in a simple ceremony in Ottawa. Lieut.-Gen. Foulkes commanded the 2nd Canadian Infantry Division in Normandy, and the 1st Canadian Corps in Italy. At Wageningen, in Holland, Gen. Foulkes accepted the surrender of the German General Blaskowitz and his army of more than 100,000 men.

Vinemount News

The nineteenth annual reunion of the Harper family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mather, Stoney Creek, Sunday, June 29th. Relatives were present from Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, N.Y., Beamsville, Winona, Vinemount, Tapscott and Newark, N.J. The oldest gentleman present was Mr. Wm. Harper, Beamsville, and his sister, Mrs. J. Watson, Buffalo, the oldest lady. The youngest children, Little Jo-Ana Clarke and Kenny Reinke.

Beta Sigma Phi, Hamilton, held its annual picnic at the home of one of the members, Miss Audrey Glidden, traveling via chartered bus. The committee in charge of refreshments were Mesdames Irma Rainey, Mary Taylor and Margaret Smith, and convener of games, Miss Jean Mingay. A piano solo by one of the members and community singing comprised the musical entertainment. The president, Miss Jean Mortimer, presided.

The reunion of the Harvey Lacy family was held in the Vinemount Women's Institute Hall. The oldest member present was Mr. Ashton Carter of Winona, and the youngest, David Krick. The election of officers for 1947 and 1948 was as follows: president, Victor Bowlsbaugh, secretary-treasurer, Albert Smye; sports committee, Jean Tweedie, Muriel Bowlsbaugh, Ashton Carter; lunch committee, Mesdames Victor Bowlsbaugh, William Smye, Ernest Tweedie. The oldest living relative, Mrs. Robert McIntosh, Smithville, 90 years old, was unfortunately not well enough to be present.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Church gathered at the parsonage and presented Mrs. John Sutherland with a bedroom lamp, and expressed best wishes for a successful and happy future in her new parish.

Mrs. John Fleming held a trousseau tea at her home for her daughter, Maude Fleming who was married at the parsonage Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Ernest Tewksley of Hamilton, assisted Mrs. Fleming.

Tapscott softball team defeated Fulton at Tapscott 11 to 4. Batteries: Tapscott, Joe Clarke and Bobby Staples; Fulton, Cliff and D'Arcy Parker.

The Vinemount Women's Institute held its annual picnic with 22 members and friends joined with the Stoney Creek Institute and travelled to Guelph, where the 50th anniversary of the Stoney Creek W.I. was celebrated. Mrs. George Glidden, a charter member, attended the banquet in the evening and replied to the toast to the chartered members by Mrs. Gordon Maynard of Unionville.

Miss Audrey Glidden entertained the staff of the Cannon street school, Hamilton, at her home. A presentation to A. C. Hewitt, principal, and Mrs. Hewitt, was made by Miss Johnson on behalf of the staff.

OVER-EXERTION

Warning against over-exertion and strain at work or play is contained in a health bulletin from Ottawa. "You wouldn't expect a row-boat to tow a battleship, so why ask your body to tax itself with tasks only a horse should perform?" ask National Health experts. They advise care in lifting and moving heavy objects.

SOAP TODAY

It matters little what you want to buy these days : : : soap, a shirt, a new car... even electricity (which you don't have to line up for) continues to be scarce in Southern Ontario.

Have you tried to build a home lately? : : : tried to buy building materials of any kind. What a headache! How would you like to be shopping for what's needed for a new electric power plant? Unimaginable amounts of concrete, steel and other materials, as well as tremendous quantities of electrical equipment, would have to be sought out and purchased.

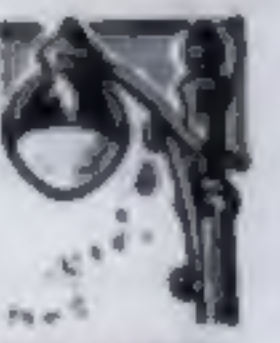

It takes several months now to get such equipment as transformers and costs are up by more than half. The bigger they are the harder they are to get.

What about the huge generating stations required to supply Ontario with an additional badly needed half-million horsepower? Well, they are being built. They were started years ago. But they cannot all be ready in 1947. Some won't be ready next year.

In the meantime, demand for electricity is growing faster than new power plants. Few people anywhere use as much electricity per person as in Ontario. Few have as much to use. Enjoy your low-cost electric power, but use it wisely. Your Hydro Commission is doing everything possible to increase the supply; but it will still be necessary to conserve electricity this fall and winter.

TWINKLING LIGHTS OF LITTLE TOWNS

A little town at twilight in late summer of the year is a perfect place to loiter, if you happen to be near. You can see the maples bending over avenues of shade. And the lawn where little children happily in daytime played. Main Street windows now are lighted, shining with a friendly glow. Swinging street lamps gleam a sudden all along a leafy row. And in the gloom that deepens as the autumn landscape browns, symbols of all earthly freedoms are the lights of little towns.

OFT IN THE STILLY NIGHT

(Contributed)
Sunday night was made hideous on the Grimsby mountainside by the screaming death struggle of two or more mysterious creatures—bird, or beast or devil—no one could be sure. Some thought a dog was being killed by owls, or vice versa. Others thought a skunk had robbed an eagle's nest—but this was too eerie. So "deep into the darkness peering, wondering, fearing, doubting, dreaming dreams no mortal ever dared to dream before. It was too far up to 'Explore; too hideous, for night's Plutonian shore"—so we said, "Nevermore."

But Wednesday night, after a Holiday in Mexico, the brawl was renewed. This time at our backdoor—in a henlock not fifty feet away. Neighbors came out and peered into the darkness again. The mystery was even greater; the screams fiercer; the clawing more savage—this was the final—something must happen. Cat fights were eliminated; it was high up in the henlock. The screaming became more tense; the agony more painful—until a third announced the end. I rushed to the tree, but could see nothing—only heard the skulking of something heavy through the leaves, and the soft "Whoo-oo" of an owl, phoning home "we won."

I had heard that thus before—fifty years ago—coon hunting on the Twenty. And the coon always got away before the dogs realized what was up—was down, and away. A twenty pound thud is unmistakable. Mother Raccoon had been foraging for food for her young, now past the nursing stage. Perhaps, had inadvertently come upon an owl's nest, with young or eggs. That was enough—for Macduff. The feud was on. The semi-finals had been fierce, but the final Wednesday night was a "Ring-tail-mortal" alright, but no amount of smothering would frighten those Long-eared Owls away. The night was to their liking; the limb was propitious. And Skulky, the coon, was out on a limb, and his eyes were too dim with those scratching claws. There was nothing to do but drop the decision—the 20-pound thud.

2000 GROUNDHOGS SHOT

(Dundalk Herald)
The big groundhog hunt in Badger-Maple Valley district is all over, with John Hannon's team winning over Marshall Armour's team by 134 tails. Total for the winners was 1111 and for the losers 867. Highest scorer was "One Shot" Billy Wilson, who turned in 733 tails for the losing team. We think he has earned the title of "Groundhog King of Badgers District. Highest scorer for the winning team was Ed Taylor of Maple Valley, with a count of 363. Ed is a veteran of all previous hunts and it was his efforts which practically assured victory for his side. A number of others also had good scores. Because of shortage of ammunition in recent years they had become quite a nuisance, and the South Line Farm Forum, which sponsored the drive, decided away back last winter that it was time the community was doing something about it.

FRUIT BY AIR

Penticton, B.C., June 29—Okanagan fruit growers plan a test air shipment of fruit to Eastern Canada. Cost of the flight for a 6,000 pound load is $838. This will be partly defrayed by reducing handling, eliminating refrigeration costs and speed in the three-to-table service.

IT IS NOT TOO LATE FOR TOMATO PLANTING

In spite of the delay in planting of tomatoes, caused by the abnormal wet weather, it is pointed out by officials of the fruit and vegetable branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture that there is still plenty of time for every assurance of a good crop. Many of the plants set out earlier have suffered rather severely because of the heavy rains coming after they had been planted, but plants set out within the next two weeks should make excellent progress with the coming of warm weather. Plants which have been grown in greenhouses and hotbeds, in fact, will have benefitted from being held back until after the rain, because their growth will not have become stunted, and they should make rapid progress even with late planting. Farmers who had planned to use some of their land for tomatoes can still do so with assurance, it is pointed out, and should be able to harvest good crops if the weather conditions from now on are favourable to rapid development.

On the other hand, there are 26 peers who are minors, several of them under ten years of age, so that there have been peers who have met a comparatively early death.

TESTING CATTLE

Dr. L. T. Swan, St. Catharines veterinarian and Dr. Thompson, federal veterinary inspector started testing cattle for tuberculosis in this district last week under the Federal Free Area plan. The county of Lincoln will be completed before testing is started in Welland County which when completed will make the whole Niagara district a free tuberculosis area. Other veterinarians are testing in the Smithville and Stamford areas. Stock owners are advised that these tests are compulsory but are done free of charge, the Federal Government bearing the cost.

NEW INSURANCE BOOKS CARRY A METAL PLATE

Many employers and employees are wondering why this year's Unemployment Insurance Book carries a metal plate attached on the left hand side of the front cover. The plate, made of alloy steel, has embossed on it the name, address, coded birthdate and book number of the employee, which is done with a Graphotype machine, made by the Addressograph Company. It is then fastened to the book with an acetate clip.

The purpose of the plate, it was learned at the Unemployment Insurance Office in Hamilton, is to print the information it carries on all forms used by the Unemployment Insurance staff thus eliminating many errors caused by the human element in writing long-hand. The machine used for the imprinting is a small hand printer.

The Unemployment Insurance Office is performing this work twenty-four hours a day. It was stated by an official. Besides the Hamilton area, Insurance Books from the following offices are being stamped: Welland, Niagara Falls, St. Catharines, Port Colborne, Fort Erie and Dunnville, with approximately 2200 books being stamped in one day. There are some 70,000 Insurance Books to be completed.

"You can't fill the head when the stomach is empty" the health authorities remind Canadian parents. When mothers are preparing those box lunches which the children take to school, the medical experts suggest that substantial and sustaining foods be included. Not just sandwiches with fillings "painted" on. These won't give the children the energy they need in coping with their studies—or play.
